New Novel by Claud Garner Story of Teen-Ager Fight to Restore an Old Farm

Many Rescued From Quake Stricken Isle

By GEORGE ARFELD
ANGRA DO HEROSIMO, Azores (AP)—A mercy fleet from five nations brought more than 1,000 dazed and shocked refugees to Angra today from the earthquake devastation of Sao Jorge Island.

U.S., Norwegian, British, Italian and Yugoslav ships shuttled back and forth over the 20-mile stretch of water between this island of Terceira and Sao Jorge.

Refugees told of villages shaken to ruins, and said the air was thick with sulphur, an indication that a new volcano is building up on the ocean floor.

The evacuation operation was halted in the afternoon, however, "because authorities believe the situation has become stable," said Cmdr. Alvaro Cardoso, captain of the port of Angra.

"Tremors are becoming weaker and less frequent," he added.

The refugees said the earth on the Azores island had been rocking for four days, and one of them said the recurring quakes made it impossible to sleep.

Twenty tremors were registered by Azores authorities on Sao Jorge during Tuesday night.

The quakes have been most intense on western Sao Jorge. About 20,000 islanders call Sao Jorge home. It is an elongated island, 34 miles long and about 1 1/2 miles wide.

Tremors also were felt Tuesday.

Louisiana St. Paving Is Assured

R. P. Weise, out of the Division Engineer's office of the Frisco Railroad, met with the City Board of Directors to discuss the improvement of Louisiana street between 3rd and 2nd street and repairing several crossings on the Frisco track that are in bad order.

Mr. Weise said that his company would put permanent tie paving to the end of the crosses if the city would pave the remaining area of the street. Also, he indicated the Railroad would work with the city in improving the drainage in this area.

The Board of Directors asked the Railroad Company representative to submit at the very earliest date a plan of the proposed improvements and expressed their willingness to work with the Railroad Company in providing a good riding service on Louisiana street between 2nd and 3rd. They also requested the Railroad rebuild the crossings on 2nd street and make needed repairs to other crossings on North Louisiana.

In other action the Board of Directors approved an award to Perry's Truck Stop for an International Truck Chassis for the Garbage Department. Their low bid was $2594.50 which was 9c below Nunn-Pentecost Motor Company's bid of $2594.59 on a Dodge Truck Chassis. Other bids on the truck chassis were, Young Chevrolet Company, $2616.40, Trading Post on a GMC, $2847.50 and Hope Auto Company submitted the high bid of $2945.00.

Whopping Big Price Cuts Honor Washington

Instead of chopping down cherry tree, Hope Merchants are chopping prices to commemorate George Washington's Birthday. It actually is a three-day event, starting Thursday and will come to a climax on Saturday. Left to right in picture, Bud Collier and Bill Morris, co-chairman and Trainer Cherokee Noah.

Registration for prizes to be given away begins Thursday at stores displaying special George Washington banners. There is nothing to buy. The prizes include a year's supply of vitamins certificates worth $10 in groceries, a $10 certificate for shoes, electric coffee pot, a clock, many small appliance gifts and the grand prize valued at $399.95 is a 23 inch television and AMFM radio console by Curtis Match in walnut finish cabinet. It was purchased from Baker's Easy Pay Store.

Saturday is the big day, just shake that cherry tree at Second and Main at 10:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:40 p.m. 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Each time a $5 gift certificate and five cherry pies will be given away. All you have to do is visit one of the participating stores to be eligible to shake the cherry tree. Three 3-day period will be climaxed with a parade preceding the drawing for the big prize. The parade starts promptly at 4:45 p.m. Saturday and will feature elephants, bands from Hope and Yergers High Schools and surry with the fringe on top from Arkla Village.

The drawing is 5 p.m. at Second and Main. Some smaller prizes will be given away. All you have to do to win is be 16 years or older, register and be present.

French Hope to Crack Gabon Coup

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo, Republic (AP)—France sent troops to Gabon today in an attempt to reinstall President Leon M'ba, ousted by a military coup.

An undisclosed number of French troops were brought into Libreville, capital of Gabon, by plane from Dakar, Senegal, and from Brazzaville.

In Paris, French sources said the purpose of the French military intervention was to "re-establish legality" for the benefit of the M'ba administration. The M'ba regime was overthrown early Tuesday in a coup which has thus far apparently remained bloodless.

Earlier resistance to the new revolutionary regime had been limited in a Radio Gabon broadcast. It called for "mutineers" to lay down their arms.

Although those who resisted

Young Sinatra Leaves Case for London

By JAMES BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank Sinatra Jr. is in London today, leaving the possibility that Frank Sr. will be the star witness at the trial of three men charged with kidnaping the young singer.

The father was on call all day Tuesday to testify.

A half-day session—due to a juror's wish to attend an afternoon family funeral—could even postpone the elder Sinatra's appearance another day.

Young Sinatra, 20, under contract to the revamped Tommy Dorsey band, was given government permission to rejoin the band in Europe. He is on a 12-to 24-hour call to return for further testimony if needed. London is a 10-hour transpolar flight from Los Angeles.

Key witness at Tuesday's session was Patrolman George Wendell of Carson City, Nev., police.

He testified that he approached the alleged kidnaper car some 800 yards before it reached a Nevada roadblock last Dec. 8.

Defendants Barry Keenan, 23, Joseph Amsler, 23, and John Irwin, 42, are accused of kidnaping young Sinatra on that date and holding him for $240,000 ransom.

The government contends that Keenan was outside the parked car, Amsler hidden in the trunk and Sinatra lying on the back seat when Wendell approached the car.

Wendell said he was in a prowl car with flashing red

1st Assembly to Hear Ex-Pastor

Willhite, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to all friends of the church to attend these meetings.

Gambling as Usual at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—It was gambling as usual Tuesday night in this resort city which Justice Department agents say harbors the biggest illegal gambling operation in the U.S.

William Hundley, chief of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Justice Department, said "It seems awfully hard for me to comprehend that gambling of this scope could possibly be self-contained within the confines of the state of Arkansas."

Crowds jammed the glittering casinos and bars as they do throughout the holiday racing season at Oaklawn Park, which opened Saturday.

Hot Springs Mayor Dan Wolf said the city's gambling was operated "all by local Arkansas money."

"I haven't seen any evidence of it (outside interests) anywhere," Wolf said.

Hundley returned to Washington late Tuesday, but Edward T. Boyce, head of the gambling unit of the crime and racketeering section, stayed on to coordinate the probe.

The city took the situation calmly. Fancy-dressed hundreds in holiday moods kept crocheters busy in the top half-dozen clubs.

Hundley said ex-mobster Joe Valachi, who recently told a congressional committee of Cosa Nostra crime syndicate operations, told him that Chicago

Southerners Plan All Out Fight on Civil Rights Bill

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced today after a conference of Southern senators opposed to the House-passed civil rights bill that "we intend to fight this bill with all the vigor at our command."

Russell, chief spokesman of Southern opponents, said they will be prepared to debate the legislation 24 hours a day if opponents decide to conduct around-the-clock sessions in an attempt to win passage.

The Southerners—Russell estimated their total strength at 19—took their stand after administration leaders took a no-compromise attitude on the House-approved bill.

The measure seems likely to provide an ultimate test of President Johnson's ability to get controversial legislation out of Congress.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader who will serve as Senate floor manager for the measure, said the President is completely committed to the strong terms of the House bill.

Humphrey added there would be "no wheels or deals" to gain its passage even if it takes weary weeks to break through a Southern filibuster. The measure may be brought up next week.

Humphrey's optimism that the House bill can be passed without substantial changes was not shared by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

"There are going to be some compromises," Dirksen said in an interview. "I am going to give the administration an opportunity to compromise, and we'll see what happens."

Dirksen said he will offer a proposal calling for voluntary desegregation of hotels, motels, restaurants and other places of public accommodation. The House-approved bill would make such desegregation mandatory in a selected field.

If he can't get the Senate to accept his voluntary plan, Dirksen said he will consider falling back on an alternative proposal for compulsory integration of businesses offering food and lodging to interstate travelers.

Although Southern opponents of the House bill plan to talk at length in an effort to prevent any Senate progress toward its passage, they probably would be tempted to suspend their vocal marathon long enough to permit a vote on any proposal to water down its terms.

If that happens, a majority of the Senate would decide whether the controversial accommodations section should be changed and thus open the way to other possible alterations in the measure's provisions.

Southerners were called into a strategy session today by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Johnson has demonstrated the ability to wangle the votes needed for a majority. But he could risk final defeat of the bill if he fails to come to some kind of

Baker Silent, Invokes 5th Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bobby Baker refused today on the basis of his Fifth Amendment protection and other constitutional grounds to surrender subpoenaed documents to the Senate Rules Committee.

Baker was with the committee in a closed session for more than an hour. When he and his lawyers came out, they told a crowd of newsmen jammed in a Senate corridor of Baker's stand.

With Baker standing at his side before TV cameras, attorney Edward Bennett Williams said he and Boris Kastelanetz, a New York tax lawyer, had advised the former Senate aide against waiving his constitutional rights.

Williams charged the rules

Freighter Stricken, Rescue Starts

NEW YORK (AP)—A Norwegian freighter rescued the first survivors today from a helplessly drifting British merchantman in the storm-tossed North Atlantic, the Coast Guard announced here.

Shortly before 9 a.m. (EST), the freighter Fruen secured a line to the derelict Ambassador and removed three of the seven crewmen still aboard her, the Coast Guard reported.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stricken British freighter Ambassador wallowed in the storm-tossed North Atlantic today with many of her 35 crewmen in lifeboats.

The 443-foot Ambassador was afloat 660 miles southeast of Halifax, N.S., the Coast Guard said, but she had a 50-degree list. An earlier report said her starboard rail was touching the water.

The Italian passenger liner Leonardo da Vinci had been the only vessel to reach the Ambassador since the freighter sent out an SOS at 6:47 a.m. Tuesday. With the arrival of the Norwegian vessel Fruen Tuesday night the Da Vinci resumed her voyage to New York, the Coast Guard said.

The Fruen radioed she would stand by the Ambassador, but that she didn't believe she could do anything for the freighter's crew during the night because of the high seas.

Many of the Ambassador's crewmen took to lifeboats after their captain ordered the ship abandoned.

The 7,308-ton Ambassador radioed four minutes later: "Pumps can't handle overflow of water in engine room. Actual condition of the sea very dangerous. Have no lights. Oil flooding engine room."

The Da Vinci reported that there were "possible persons remaining on board" the Ambassador.

The Trautwein, a German ship steaming toward the stricken freighter, said seas were running 35 feet high in the area with winds of 50 to 60 knots.

The Da Vinci's captain, Oscar Ribari, in a message to the Italian Line's office, reported "the worst seas you could possibly encounter."

The Da Vinci had messaged that it tried without success all Tuesday afternoon to rescue the Ambassador crewmen who had taken to lifeboats.

Tuesday night Ribari reported: "I remain standby until tomorrow morning when is expected to arrive motor vessel Vulcania to continue search."

The Da Vinci went on her way before the Vulcania arrived, the Coast Guard said.

The Vulcania, a 24,496-ton Italian passenger liner, was scheduled to reach the scene at 6 a.m., to be joined by the Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay.

committee with conducting "a legislative trial" of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

He said he had advised the committee in advance that Baker would not produce the records, documents and memoranda called for in its subpoena.

The committee professed it did not know in advance of its closed hearing whether Baker would produce the subpoenaed records or, if not, what reasons he would give for refusing to do so.

The one-time Senate page boy who became majority secretary in 1955 when Lyndon B. Johnson was elected the Senate's majority leader could invoke his 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination.

Or if he is unwilling to surrender his records, he could give other reasons. The committee could accept these or it could recommend to the Senate that he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year's imprisonment, a $1,000 fine, or both.

L. P. McLendon, the committee's special counsel, told newsmen that whatever Baker does about the records, he very likely will be called to testify in open session next week.

The committee is investigating whether Baker's business and financial transactions while he was on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year conflicted with his official duties or involve other improprieties.

After a closed meeting of the committee Tuesday, McLendon said he thought public hearings could be concluded in less than a month.

terms with Dirksen and the substantial number of Republicans who follow the Illinois senator.

It has been obvious to all concerned that Humphrey and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana now do not believe they can muster the needed support of two-thirds of those voting to cut off debate and thus open the way to action on the bill.

Furthermore, they are resigned to the likelihood that they will never fulfill the two-thirds requirement without Dirksen's active help.

The alternative is to try to wear out the filibusterers with around-the-clock sessions. But such attempts in the past usually have wound up by wearing out the majority, who have to keep 51 members on hand at all times in order to prevent adjournment for lack of a quorum.

The filibusterers can rest in re-lays, keeping only a handful of their members in the chamber.

day night on Terceira and elsewhere in the mountainous Azores, a Portuguese possession in the Atlantic 1,000 miles west of Lisbon. The quake waves have wrecked or damaged hundreds of homes on Sao Jorge, but no casualties have been reported.

Thousands of Sao Jorge inhabitants fled to a port at the east end of the island to await removal. They feared the quakes, now in their sixth day, would set off volcanic eruptions that would destroy their island.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Sao Jorge were shaky and reports from the stricken island varied. Some said virtually the entire population of 20,000 had assembled for evacuation; other reports put the number at about 7,000.

Gov. Teotónio Machado Pires, whose district includes Terceira and Sao Jorge, said the quakes on Sao Jorge were "getting worse each minute."

The Portuguese news agency ANI said the tremors on Sao Jorge were the result of a new volcano building up on the ocean floor.

"As I got out of the car, I made the comment: 'It looks like the man's removing his chains.' Then the man asked if he could make it into Carson City without chains. I told him he could and returned to my vehicle."

Under cross-examination, Wendell said he did not shine his flashlight into the front or rear seat of the car and did not look in the car.

"I was sent out from the roadblock to see what the man was doing. I was satisfied so I went back."

Later, under government questioning, he stated that the man outside the car was not Frank Sinatra Jr.

The defense contends that the kidnapping at Lake Tahoe was a publicity stunt designed to advance the young singer's career.

Young Sinatra has testified that a policeman approached what he called the kidnap get-away car "about a half-mile from the roadblock."

21.3 Million Chicks Produced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Commercial hatcheries in Arkansas produced 21,337,000 chicks during January, five per cent more than in January 1963, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

Last month's total was 48 per cent above the 1958-62 January average.

The broiler-type chick hatch in January totaled 20,364,000, up four per cent from the same month a year ago. Egg-type chicks hatched amounted to 973,000 in January, an increase of 15 per cent over last January.

cago and New York hoodlums gathered in Hot Springs.

This was notoriously true in the 1920s and 1930s, when the city was "sanctuary" for warring mobsters, but city officials said Tuesday that it hasn't been true for years.

Hundley said Valachi also told him a "contributing factor" to the Hot Springs situation was Owen V. (Owney) Madden, prohibition-era New York ganglord.

Madden was the leader of the "Gopher Gang" which fought many bloody wars with the "Hudson Dusters" and terrorized New York City's "Hell's Kitchen." He moved to Hot Springs in the 1930s, married a postmaster's daughter, and has lived in virtual seclusion.

were not identified in the broadcast heard here, it appealed to "the soldiers" to refrain from further acts against the coup.

The broadcast was made after Jean Hilaire Aubame, the chief political foe of M'ba, was named provisional premier in the wake of Tuesday's bloodless coup in the former French African colony.

Aubame, 51, who heads a 10-man government, said in a broadcast from the Gabon capital of Libreville that he would respect the international commitments of M'ba's pro-French regime.

He appealed for calm and said the interests of foreigners in Gabon would be respected.

He told Gabon's 420,000 inhabitants: "It is because of your anguish and repeated appeals and to spare our dear Gabon from a general revolt and its consequences that our soldiers and gendarmes have just freed the country of a regime which was leading it fatally to disorder."

The four-man revolutionary committee which directed the coup proclaimed a state of emergency and set a dusk-to-dawn curfew. Assembly of more than five persons was forbidden.

A member of the revolutionary committee, Sub-Lt. Daniel Mbene, indicated the military would exercise veto power over the provisional government.

Mbene said Lt. Jacques Monbo, a gendarme officer and a member of the committee, would supervise the government.

Other members of the committee are Lt. Jean Essone and sub-Lt. Daniel Nbo Edou.

The coup came after a long power struggle between M'ba, head of the Gabonese Democratic Bloc and Aubame, leader of the Democratic and Socialist Union.

M'ba last month dissolved Gabon's 67-member Parliament and called new elections for Sunday to choose a 47-member Gabon's 450-man army, which had pledged loyalty to President M'ba a month ago, took over without firing a shot.

The U.S. State Department announced in Washington that some 150 Americans living in Gabon were reported safe. They included 30 staff members of the U.S. Embassy and their dependents, 70 Peace Corps volunteers, 25 missionaries and dependents and 15 engineers.

American officials said there was no indication of a Communist hand in the uprising.

held at the Hope Country Club on February 14. In a charming way the Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations that included Valentines, cupid, and red and white ribbons.

About 39 enjoyed an evening of dancing. They were served cold drinks, dips, chips, and cookies from a table covered with a red cloth and enhanced with red and white ornaments.

Host couples were Dr. and Mrs. Jud Martindale, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLarty, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McMahen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Judge and Mrs. Lyle Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen.

Duplicate Bridge Club

At the Hope Country Club on Monday, February 17, 5 tables of players met for the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club play. Winning couples were: first, Mrs. John Hatley and Mrs. Marie Hendrix; second, Mrs. Tully Henry and Mike Kelly; third, Dr. Lynn Harris and R. L. Broach.

Wesleyan Guild 2 Holds Meeting

Wesleyan Service Guild No. 2 of the First Methodist Church had a study of Methodist beliefs at its meeting on Monday, February 17 in the home of Mrs. Denver Dickinson. Mrs. Hinton Davis began the meeting with an inspiring devotional message on Methodist doctrine.

The president, Mrs. Sam Andrews, conducted a brief period of business. For the program Miss Mary Louise Copeland enlightened the group on "Our Methodist Heritage," concluding with a poem, "Wesley's Heart Was Strangely Warm."

During the social hour the hostess served pie a la mode and coffee or cold drinks to 10.

Council of Garden Club Meets

The Hope Council of Garden Clubs met February 12 in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Buddy Porter. Action was taken on several motions. It was decided to set aside $10.00 apiece per year for the use of each of the Junior Garden Clubs for the purchase of program material, seed, bulbs, etc.

It was also decided that the garden clubs would participate in the art festival by placing flower arrangements in downtown windows.

The flower show was discussed and a tentative date was set for April 23rd. More details were to be discussed at a later date.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Earl O'Neal attended the open house and buffet supper of the Commercial National Bank in Texarkana last week. Also, over the weekend they attended the Executive meeting Alumni Association at Hendrix College and visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robins III and Laura Ann in Conway.

Mrs. Lillian Sutton of Emmet recently returned from a visit with her grandson, Capt. and

Benton Purse Highlights Spa Card

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Nine horses will compete at Oaklawn Park today in the $3,500 Benton Purse, top event on an all-claiming card of nine races.

All will carry price tags ranging from $9,000 to $11,000 in the 5 1/2 furlong dash. Some of the entries have been running in allowance races.

Marion H. Van Berg's Hot Cargo, who will carry 116 pounds, is expected to be favored. Larry Snyder will ride Hot Cargo.

However, P. L. Grissom's Jaywalker was assigned top-weight of 117 pounds. Jaywalker was coupled in an entry with D. H. Wise's Perpetual Boy (110).

Others regarded as strong threats are E. J. Soper's consistent Mark K (111), a recent winner at the Fairgrounds, and the Augean Stable's Loll Roll (110).

Mark K won nine races in 26 starts last year, finishing in the money 17 times.

Hot Cargo, 6-year-old son of Flaming Fleet — Lottalike, galloped to a nine-length victory in his last outing, a mile and a 16th.

Completing the field are Luther Shelton's Yoigo (105), Donald McKellar's Mr. Buddy (112), W. Hal Bishop's Beau Noor (115) and Roy E. Norris' Neck Bones (1m).

In Tuesday's featured $3,800 purse, Binal covered the six furlongs of slow track in 1:14 flat to return $16.48, $7.40 and $5.20.

Blue Devils Won't Be in Tournament

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe the Michigan Wolverines and the Duke Blue Devils won't be in the NCAA championship postseason tournament after all.

This unexpected development in college basketball came Tuesday night with Minnesota's 89-75 upset of the second-ranked Wolverines and Wake Forest's 72-71 surprise conquest of the fourth-ranked Blue Devils.

The defeat dropped Michigan into a tie for first place in the Big Ten Conference with Ohio State at 8-2. Duke's defeat ended a 28-game winning streak in the Atlantic Coast Conference and dimmed the Blue Devils' hopes in the ACC championship tournament next month.

Georgia Tech climbed back into a first place tie with Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference by nipping Tennessee 47-45 and Texas A&M kept its one-game lead in the Southwest Conference by defeating Baylor 77-71.

Davidson, No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, crushed East Carolina 105-45 while Chicago Loyola, the defending national

Hurler Signs With Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced Wednesday that outfielder Joe Gaines and pitcher John Papa have signed 1964 baseball contracts, leaving 11 players on the 44-man roster still unsigned.

Gaines, 27, appeared in 66 games with Baltimore last season, hitting .286, including six home runs.

NEW YORK — Hubert Hilton, 191, Glen Cove, N.Y., outpointed Wilfred Avellez, 183, champion, whipped Bowling Green 92-83.

A Minneapolis turnout of 17, 019 saw the Gophers pile up an 18-point lead in the first half and stay ahead in their upset of Michigan.

Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin combined for 48 points, but the Wolverine stars didn't get much help. Lou Hudson and Terry Kunze each got 19 for Minnesota. Mel Northway added 16 and Don Yates 15.

Duke took the lead for the first time against Wake Forest with three minutes to go, but the Deacons regained the lead at 69-68 on Richard Herring's basket. Two free throws by Bob Leonard and one by Ronny Watts then offset Hack Tison's upset of the second-ranked Wolverines and Wake Forest's 72-71 surprise conquest of the fourth-ranked Blue Devils.

The defeat dropped Michigan into a tie for first place in the Big Ten Conference with Ohio State at 8-2. Duke's defeat ended a 28-game winning streak in the Atlantic Coast Conference and dimmed the Blue Devils' hopes in the ACC championship tournament next month.

No Television for Tournament

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A Buick spokesman said Tuesday that a disagreement over television rights will block out next summer's Buick Open Golf Tournament.

The tournament is set for June 11-14 at nearby Warwick Hills. The spokesman said the event would not be televised because of a dispute with the Professional Golfers Association.

He said the PGA reportedly wanted 20 per cent of the television proceeds, or about $11,000 of the total $55,000 tourney tab. "We don't want to enter into that hassle," he added.

The issue over ownership of television rights to PGA tournaments came up earlier this month at the Phoenix Open. Golfers threatened a boycott unless they were given rights at ready sold. A compromise averted the boycott.

One Singing Comedienne Has Remained Breezily Normal and Very Non-Neurotic

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dorothy Loudon is a singing comedienne who washes her hair three times a week, knows 1,500 saloon songs, enjoys riding on department store escalators, and loves train trips so much "I always cry when they are over."

In a business in which many performers become as wound up as tops, she has remained breezily normal and non-neurotic. She has her own theory as to why there are so few successful comedienne.

"Women are naturally funny, but people don't give them a chance—because they don't want them to be funny," she said.

"Who are the funniest men comedians? The ones who talk about women."

"But there is nothing funnier than an insecure woman showing her insecurity. Audiences love a woman performer who is seemingly insecure. They don't want her to come on like an atomic explosion."

She never ceases kidding herself during her act, but she is one of the best pros in her field today—and one of the best-liked by her fellow performers.

During her childhood in Claremont, N.H., she yearned for a theatrical career. She quit Syracuse University at the end of her sophomore year.

"I found myself studying zoology and trigonometry, neither of which seemed to be helping me much toward becoming an actress," she said.

So she came to Manhattan, took dramatic lessons, danced briefly in a chorus line, soon found herself singing and playing the piano in small cocktail lounges.

"Other people call them cocktail lounges—I call them saloons," she said. "Over a three-year period I think I played every saloon in the country."

"I have a book of 1,500 songs that my father and mother taught me—sentimental, old-time tunes with a lot of melody. They're really saloon songs, because where else could you sing them except in a saloon—or in your living room?"

She rocketed to national attention as a bright new television guest star in 1962.

Dorothy, who is still a bachelor girl, recently bought herself an old brownstone house on the Upper East Side. She likes to paint, write her own comedy material, cook and sew. For years she sewed all her own clothes.

She likes people, and this is her philosophy: "Do the best you can, and don't expect other people to do better than their best. Everybody tries. Some make it, some don't. But everybody tries."

Billy Rose a Fast Man With a Buck

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Rose always was a fast man with a buck—making it, that is.

Now, at 64, the onetime boy wonder of Broadway is the sensation of the stock market.

The word got around last week that, since Oct. 15, the value of Rose's stock holdings had been increasing by nearly $8,000 an hour. That meant about $4 million.

It was no novelty to Rose. As the result of a stock split some years ago, he made a million dollars in 20 minutes.

Rose is the largest individual stockholder in American Telephone and Telegraph and the New York Central Railroad. His long-term profits in AT&T alone are more than $8 million.

During an interview in his palatial, five-story town house at 56 East 93rd St. Rose was in a reflective mood.

"None of it seems real to a reflective mood."

"None of it seems real to me," he said. "The only thing that seems real is the 50-cent piece I have in my pocket."

Is it better to be rich or not rich?

"I think rich is better, but I don't think it's all important."

One thing is, however, important to him at the moment.

"I want to get married again," he said. "I have been married four times to three lovely girls. I like girls."

His wives were the late comedienne Fanny Brice, swim star Eleanor Holm and showgirl Joyce Mathews.

His second marriage to Miss Mathews blew up about a year ago, and since then Rose has been batching in the town house, plus luxurious estates on an island off Connecticut and at Montego Bay, Jamaica, British West Indies.

Rose takes pride in the fact that he has had 11 careers. He lists them in this order.

Songwriter, shorthand expert, nightclub operator, Broadway producer, world's fair impresario (at New York's last one), art collector, theater owner (two in New York), newspaper columnist, real estate operator, philanthropist and stock speculator.

Rose has no idea how many millions he's worth, or how much he spends a year.

What he does know is that most satisfying of his careers was song writing. He wrote the words to some 500 tunes and 35 are still fairly popular. They include "It's Only a Paper Moon," "That Old Gang of Mine," "More Than You Know," and "Million Dollar Baby."

Poor Demand for Soybeans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that a very poor domestic demand is weakening prices for soybeans.

Prices declined 3 cents a bushel last week, closing at a range of $2.69 to $2.70 a bushel at Chicago compared with $2.72 to $2.73 a week earlier. The department said farmers were continuing to hold their supplies for possible price advances.

Prices of soybean meal—a major livestock feed supplement—declined $2 a ton last week.

A department grain market review also said that corn prices declined last week due in part to a lack of export demand.

Kidney Transplant Is Successful

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A middle-aged man who received a kidney transplant at the University of Arkansas Medical Center last week was reported in satisfactory condition today.

It was the second such operation at the hospital. The first patient lived a month before dying of an infection. The operation was termed technically successful.

The name of the latest transplant patient was not released by the hospital. The transplanted kidney came from a man who died shortly before the operation was performed.

Vet of the Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. Robert E. Fahr of Paragould has been named Veterinarian of the Year at the 48th annual convention of the Arkansas Veterinary Medical Association.

Pair Allies Stumble Over Dollar Sign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two allies stumbled over the dollar sign when President Johnson and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home met two days and then issued a rather uncommunicative communique.

It was at a news conference afterwards that Douglas-Home revealed he and Johnson had failed to agree on trading with Communists or, rather, not trading. The communique didn't mention that.

The point he made—business is business—illustrates as well as anything, probably better than yards of speeches and a dozen games of diplomatic shuffleboard, the changing temperature of the cold war.

The Briton, explaining that his country opposes a ban on business deals with a Communist country just because it is Communist, said he declines to stop British trade with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

This country, wishing it could tie Castro in an economic sack away from everybody, has been irritated because Britain, and France, too, are selling Castro buses, trucks and tractors.

Since they will help him survive, the United States looks on this as a form of aid. But this country is in a bit of a contradictory position on this.

It wants to shut off aid to Castro, who is right in America's backyard, but it is willing to sell $250 million worth of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union which has had a real shortage of it. President John F. Kennedy authorized this last year.

He took the position that the Russians could get the wheat anyway because other countries, including allies, could buy it here and sell it to the Soviet Union.

"Our allies," he said, "have long been engaged in extensive sale of wheat and other farm products to the Communist bloc."

Douglas-Home stated the British position this way. His crowded country needs to trade to live. It doesn't discriminate against Communist countries in selling them peaceful goods but it won't sell them materials for war.

He added something he had said before. The more comfortable a Communist is, the less fanatical he is likely to be.

So, whether the United States likes it or not, its allies, and no one of them more than France, will not only sell to Communist countries but try to step up their business, as France is doing.

Since nothing short of an American invasion seems likely at this time to put an end to Castro, who is selling Cuban sugar like mad to friends of the United States, he figures to be around quite a while.

Nobody in a responsible position in this country is talking of invading him. So the British, French and others are operating in the belief he will be in business and able to pay his bills.

This scramble for trade with Communist countries, with goods which build their economy and help them flourish, indicates an increasing lack of fear in the West about Communist aggression and world war.

This mood has been building up since Soviet Premier Khrushchev backed down in the Cuban missile crisis in 1962. The more the allies do business with the Communists, the more it seems likely this country will want its share.

Where this leads is unpredictable. But it appears safe to say that after almost 20 years of it the cold war's era of intense and dogged hostility between the West and communism is ending, except for this country's relations with Cuba and Red China.

As for the communique issued by Johnson and Douglas-Home, it was a collection of the obvious, with surprises for none.

CHAPTER 27

I looked back at the fire. "Don't let it worry you," Gail said. "Maggie had it insured. She never stood to lose a dime on that oil company."

"Who ran Zona Oil for Jack Charlton?" I asked Gail.

"Cliff Crismon. From what you said about the fat man at Solly's I rather suspect . . . He was another of Jack's bad investments, a slob."

"But if that was Crismon . . . I looked at the fire over my shoulder."

"Nogales now?" Gail asked. "Yes ma'am. But about the oil thing, was there really a well?"

"One started."

"Who put it up or drilled it down or whatever you do to get oil?"

"Wildcatters, percentage boys. Do you know there's more cheap Zona Oil. Did Charlton sell help with big ideas in Arizona shares in it?"

"No," Gail said, "he didn't."

"Big Rock Candy Mountains?"

"You sound bitter," I said. "I'm not really. Not about that anyway. I've done a lot of driving around these parts. I've eaten at every truck stop, bus stop, had beer in bars a lady wouldn't enter. I know these people, the kind Jack would hire."

"Arizona's booming. Come to Arizona and make your fortune. A few of them have, in Tucson, in Phoenix, in Scottsdale. Most of them haven't. Most of them, the ones who staked their last dollar to get here, can't even raise the bus fare to get out of the state. They can't compete with the Mexican crop pickers; the building trade unions don't want or need them; and you even have to stand in line for a dishwasher's job."

"Let's not change the subject," I said. "Let's go back to the Zona Oil. Did Charlton sell help with big ideas in Arizona shares in it?"

"No," Gail said, "he didn't."

"Come off it," I said. "We do know this," Gail said savagely. "With the paper, notes, and insurance she holds to cover her investments in Charlton she stands to be a quarter-of-a-million dollars richer, and that with you presumed to have killed Charlton and run away with me, there's little chance she can do anything but collect. Makes money on a bad oil venture just as she did on the mess Jack made of his foreign-car agency."

"But if Herbert were in the oil thing with Jack . . . I began."

"Don't be a dope," Gail said. "Her own personal spy. Why he might even be the one who made your advent so fortuitous—the right sucker. Forgive me, lover, but it's true, the right sucker at the right time!"

Down through the dark, down to Nogales.

A year, a year and a half ago, Jack came down here on business. "What business?" "I don't know." "About the oil business?" I said.

"Legitimate, I guess, and ridiculous. The way Jack told it, he met Barton Cronshey at a motel bar. Cronshey, it turned out, was a geologist working for the A.E.C., a professional uranium hunter right in Jack's lap. He didn't find out a thing about uranium, but he did find out that there was oil in Arizona, right down in Cochise County."

"So that put Jack in the oil business with every cent he could raise, including a note to Maggie which would give her the rest of his foreign-car business if he couldn't meet his obligations and including 50 grand in life insurance in case any thing happened to him."

"You don't like Maggie," I told her. "I don't think you ever have. Why?"

"For the same reason you like her. Maggie's gone through life making life work the way she sees it. Sure, money's helped, and I'd like to say that's the difference between Maggie and me, but it isn't. If Maggie were a waitress in a one-arm joint she'd make that restaurant run the way she wanted it to."

"Come off it," I said. "We do know this," Gail said savagely. "With the paper, notes, and insurance she holds to cover her investments in Charlton she stands to be a quarter-of-a-million dollars richer, and that with you presumed to have killed Charlton and run away with me, there's little chance she can do anything but collect. Steel War Could Follow Chicken War

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The chicken war could be succeeded by a steel war.

American and European steel producers are at odds over imports and tariffs. And the dispute may become one of the sorest when a new round of international tariff cutting talks starts in Geneva in May.

Increased tariffs by the European Common Market on American frozen chickens caused the hottest friction last year.

American steel executives today are telling a U.S. Tariff Commission hearing of their complaints against a rising flow of foreign steel into U.S. markets. They also are asking measures to broaden the export business for American steel mills.

The European Coal and Steel Community already has acted. Saturday it raised its tariffs on imports of low-priced steel and cast iron.

The community—the six Common Market nations—also reports a big upsurge in orders for its steel mills. It says most of the orders are coming from within the Common Market—West Germany, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Steel producers outside the Common Market aren't happy that the duties are being raised ing fair to the place. We were through it in two minutes.

The border stations are funnels between high wire fences. There is no problem in crossing the line. The Mexican officer saluted Gail jauntily. Even under those harsh lights my ersatz blonde was something pretty special.

We drove down the street and it looked like Tijuana must have looked 25 years ago, an authentic Mexican town working hard to be a clip joint. The big difference between Nogales and Tijuana was the way the hills pushed in, with shabby little houses scrambling up the cliff sides.

against them—to an average of 9 per cent.

American producers haven't been happy that European steel export prices have been lower than the prices charged Common Market consumers—or the prices of American steel products here.

But with the rise in demand in Europe, the six nations may find less need to export—and to maintain lower prices to do so.

And already export prices of some European steel products have risen above charges of a year ago.

While the European steel mills are enjoying something of a boom in new orders, so are the American. U.S. mills are raising their estimates of industry shipment in the first three months of this year to more than 19 million tons. This compares with 17 million in the final three months of 1963 and 18 million tons in the first quarter of last year.

The American mills' export import troubles are outlined to the Tariff Commission today by John P. Roche, president of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

He says steel imports here in 1963 climbed to a record 5.5 million tons, while exports of U.S. steel have been stalemated at 2 million tons, or only about half of the average in 1953-57.

Roche holds that loss of world markets, plus rising imports here, has meant that some 40,000 steel workers were deprived

Crosby Show Was Fine One as Usual

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bing Crosby makes only an occasional television appearance. Each delightful and the most recent, of his shows, however, has been on CBS Saturday, perhaps was the best of all.

The music was tuneful, the dancing graceful and ingenious, the sketches amusing and the guest stars talented.

Peter Gennaro, the bright dancing star, was great and the hit number of the whole show perhaps was his light-footed duet with Kathryn Crosby.

Bing's young wife demonstrated that she could sing nicely, too.

Crosby was his usual relaxed self, singing with Rosemary Clooney, exchanging the usual insult banter with Bob Hope of more than $300 million in wages and salaries.

American steel makers are urging U.S. negotiators at the Geneva meeting of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade to fight for tariffs that will equalize prices of American and foreign made steel.

Hat Firm Gets Okay From LBJ

NEW YORK (AP)—Hat Corp. of America said Monday President Johnson has allowed hat makers to promote an "LBJ" model.

It's a modified version of the Texans' five-gallon hat, which is a smaller version of the cowboy's ten-gallon hat. Charles H. Salesky, president of Hat Corp., designed it.

and generally keeping things moving.

Another happy weekend note was the premiere Friday night of ABC's new Western series, "Destiny," a tongue-in-cheek affair reminiscent of those wonderful early "Maverick" shows.

Destiny is played by John Gavin who is an attractive cross between James Stewart and James Garner. He is supposed to be hunting down a fellow who framed him, but he's not very serious about it. It's just a device to move him to new adventures, preferably comedic, each week.

All in all it was a fine weekend of television, without even one drama about drug addiction. Even the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's Show Sunday night seemed fun, or am I getting accustomed to their hairdos?

Auto Firm at Nashville Burns

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Tollet Auto Parts Co. building in Nashville early today.

Firemen battled two hours to control the fire. Smoke damaged adjacent buildings, but a fire wall confined the flames to the auto parts company.

There was no estimate of loss. The case was not determined.

Mindano Floods Take Big Toll

MANILA (AP)—Deaths in widespread floods on Mindanao Island have mounted to about 30, newspaper reports said today.

Cholera was reported to have broken out in the flooded towns of Agusan Province.

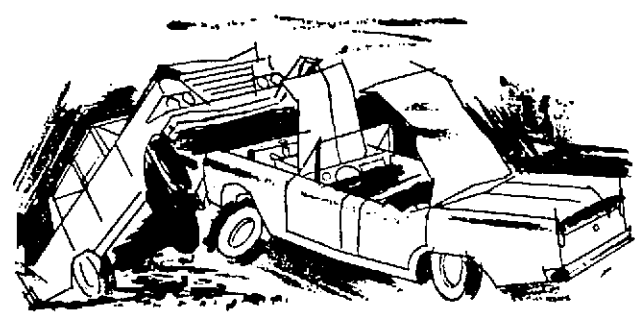

In Davao Province alone, 15 towns were reported under water.

Some Difference

NEW YORK (AP)—Prison officials got a preview Thursday of the $10.3-million correctional reception center on Rikers Island in the East River.

A far cry from the old prisons the cells are painted pastel green or light beige and feature non-sag beds.

The three-story structure, with a capacity of 1,204 prisoners, will be used as a first stop for all prisoners sentenced to terms of 30 days or more.

Viet Nam Is a Dilemma for Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American-backed war against Communists in South Viet Nam is not only dragging badly but Red assassins are trying to terrorize Americans, including women and children, far behind the lines.

This is building to an anguished dilemma for President Johnson in this election year when he wants to look good in foreign affairs, the field in which would-be Republican presidential candidates criticize him most.

In Saigon, the capital, assassins' bombs have killed and wounded Americans in bars and a baseball stadium. American homes have been attacked with grenades. Sunday night the terrorists reached a peak.

Outside a movie theater filled with about 500 servicemen and their families, a U.S. military policeman was shot to death. Then came the bomb blast.

Two more servicemen were killed, 51 Americans were wounded or injured, including women and children, and outside the theater a number of Vietnamese were killed or wounded.

An Associated Press dispatch says recent Vietnamese intelligence reports indicate top level Communist terrorist and assassination squads from North Viet Nam started moving into Saigon Jan. 1. The attacks didn't get going well until this month. Now they are multiplying in ferocity.

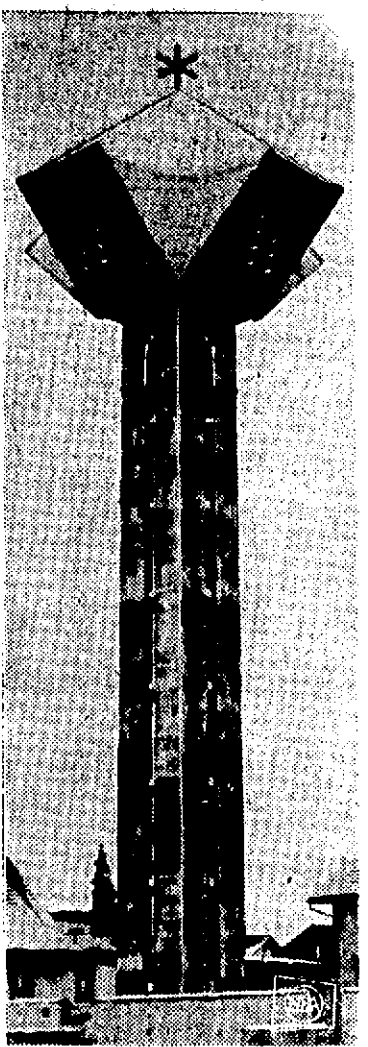

Ever since a bunch of South Vietnamese generals took over the government in a coup last Nov. 1, the course of the war has been uncertain and dilapidated.

This developing chaos was compounded Jan. 29 when the generals who pulled off the Nov. 1 coup were bounced out in another coup by another bunch of generals, led by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, 36.

A "dirty, untidy, disagreeable war," Secretary of State Dean Rusk has called it, although Johnson has said "we're not pulling out."

Such withdrawal would wreck American prestige in Southeast Asia where over many years now this country has spent American lives and millions in dollars to save the area from communism.

The American part in this war is a kind of myth. The United States is not supposed to be directly involved, because that

Intervention by Turks to Be Resisted

By HAL MCCLURE
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —

President Makarios declared today that if Turkey intervened in the Cyprus crisis "we would resist" and would accept aid from any quarter.

In an interview, Makarios told The Associated Press he was deeply concerned about the bloodshed between Greek and Turkish Cypriots who want Turkey to intervene.

"I think that the Turks (Cypriots) have in mind that by creating trouble they will succeed in their separatist plans, of course with the help of Ankara," he said.

He emphasized that in resisting any Turkish intervention "we would ask the (U.N.) Security Council to step in and we would appeal to all countries to assist us. We would accept any assistance."

In speaking of separatist plans, he referred to the insistence by the Turkish Cypriots minority on partition of Cyprus.

"The threat of intervention is always a great encouragement for the Turkish Cypriots to insist their separatist aims," he said.

The Greek Cypriot arch bishop sat behind a desk at the presidential palace, relaxed despite the violence that has occurred on the island since last December.

Makarios also said his government would be "very happy to get rid of the treaties of guarantee and alliance concluded when the island won independence in 1960."

He said the Turkish Cypriots will insist on partitioning the island as long as they think Turkey will intervene.

Turkey, Greece and Britain have rights of intervention under the treaty of guarantee.

"In other words the root of the evil is to be found in the treaties Makarios continue. They contain the source of conflicts and troubles on Cyprus," he said.

The tension which developed between the Greek and Turkish communities on the island flamed into bloodshed last Christmas following Makarios' announcement that he planned to revise the Constitution, established by treaty.

JUST HOW DANGEROUS IS THE PRE-DINNER COCKTAIL?

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: My husband and I find that we enjoy a drink or two so much that we've begun to worry about it. Every meal has become a festive occasion with the help of a cocktail before dinner, and wine during dinner. But somehow, we don't quite approve of ourselves. The more we enjoy our drinking, the guiltier, we seem to feel about this drink at the end of the day. Dr. Brothers, are we becoming alcoholics? —M. M.

Dear M.M. Eminent doctors have recently concluded drinks before and during dinner may be quite good for you.

A new explanation of alcohol and its effects has emerged from a symposium held at the University of California Medical Center. The consensus seemed to be that in the case of the person who is not neurotic, but in danger of becoming so, alcohol in proper doses was the best prescription. It could help him live a happy, cheerful, one hundred years.

But to a person already neurotic, alcohol was dangerous. Dr. Leon Greenberg of Yale reported that he'd been experimenting with white rats, trying to make them neurotic by subjecting them to special noises that affect them in the way that fingerprints on blackboards affected humans.

A couple of animal-size cocktails seemed to help keep the white rats from becoming neurotic. But when given to animals who had already been made neurotic, the drinks were disastrous. They became confirmed alcoholics.

Dr. William Dock explained how alcohol prevents neurosis. It makes one's troubles, physical or emotional, seem less alarming. It allows a person to consider his problems with detached sympathy. He is not all wrapped up in the way he feels, but has an objective, removed attitude that he has toward the troubles of others. The attitude, so dangerous for the automobile driver, is most helpful when we're worried about things that we can do very little about.

Alcohol, the doctor seems to feel, is the safest, most available tranquilizer we have.

These doctors also defended the cocktail party. To be efficient much of the time, Dr. Georgio Lolli declared, every man must have some time to be inefficient, and to recharge his batteries. The cocktail hour is a good hour of the day for inefficiency. Now, I'd like to emphasize that we're talking about one or two drinks.

Drunkenness is "not" what the doctor ordered. Dr. Chauncey Leek put it this way: .05 per cent alcohol in the blood, about one and a half moderate ly strong highballs, and a lady acts delightful and desirable. At 0.1 per cent, she is daring and drollish. At 0.2 per cent, dangerous and disheveled. At 0.4 per cent, delirious and disgusting. At 0.6 per cent, dead drunk. And at 0.7 per cent, just dead.

All in all, the doctors seem to feel that a drink a day keeps the doctor away, and that after a hard day's work, if a man and wife wish to relax with a drink before dinner, it's all to the good.

Bombings Laid to U.S. Imperialism

TOKYO (AP) — The Communist Liberation Press Agency — Viet Cong — charged today "U.S. imperialism and its lackeys" made wanton bombings over the Ban Cau area in Tay Ninh Province Feb. 6, of South Viet Nam near the Cambodian border.

Quoting a statement issued by the Viet Cong, Radio Peking said more than 1,000 houses and temples were burned down, and more than 300 people were killed or wounded.

Dr. William Dock explained how alcohol prevents neurosis. It makes one's troubles, physical or emotional, seem less alarming. It allows a person to consider his problems with detached sympathy. He is not all wrapped up in the way he feels, but has an objective, removed attitude that he has toward the troubles of others. The attitude, so dangerous for the automobile driver, is most helpful when

Jury Picking Starts Today in Ruby Case

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, questioning the first prospective juror in Jack Ruby's murder trial, said today "we will ask for a verdict of death."

The jury candidate, Hillard M. Stone, an illustrator, said he felt he could vote for the death penalty.

Ruby sat between defense attorneys Melvin Belli and Joe Tonahill. He kept his eyes riveted on Stone. He showed no change of expression when the question of the death penalty came into the hearing.

It was the second day of Ruby's trial.

He is charged with murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The defense says it is impossible to get an impartial jury in Dallas.

"Nothing happened this morning to change my opinion about that," said Melvin M. Belli, chief counsel for Ruby, after seeing the first 150 prospective jurors in the courtroom of District Judge Joe B. Brown.

The question of an impartial jury is a pivotal point in the defense of Ruby.

Kennedy was assassinated on Nov. 22, only 210 yards from the scene of the trial. Two days later, in the basement of the Dallas City Hall, Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with murdering the President.

The defense contends Dallas is freighted with prejudice and feelings of guilt. Belli says "the shame brought on the Dallas image" is such that no juror "would be obligated to convict Jack Ruby of murder with malice (a capital offense) to prove that Dallas is a place of law and order."

Belli, an urbane, gray-haired San Franciscan, wants the trial moved to a city at least 200 miles from Dallas.

Nine hundred prospective jurors are available for questioning on their qualifications. Questioning begins with Mrs. C.C. Cherry, Hillard M. Stone, and J.E. Saunders.

Belli and the district attorney, Henry M. Wade, each will have 15 peremptory challenges with which they can reject a prospective juror without stating a reason.

Each side also has an unlimited number of challenges "for cause." In this instance, the attorney must state his reason for not wanting a person on the jury. The judge decides whether the reason is valid.

Ruby's defense is temporary insanity — the assertion that he suffers from "psychomotor epilepsy," and that grief over Kennedy's death shocked him into an emotional state during which, unwittingly, he killed Oswald.

"This defendant does not have the mental capacity to stand trial," Belli said Monday when he moved for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Judge Brown overruled the motion.

A man carrying a loaded 32-caliber pistol was arrested in the district attorney's office, next door to the courthouse, during the luncheon recess. Sheriff Bill Decker identified him as David Conrad Glass, 39, of Beatty, Ore. He was held on a charge of illegally carrying a weapon.

Decker said Glass "talked incoherently" about the assassination of Kennedy.

Glass mumbled about the slaying of Oswald by Ruby, but

Manslaughter Brings 3 Years

MARION, Ark. (AP) — William LaForge, 28, was sentenced to three years in prison after he pleaded guilty Monday to involuntary manslaughter in the malnutrition death of one of his children.

A similar charge against his 21-year-old wife was dropped by the state.

The LaForges were arrested Dec. 12 when their 4-month-old daughter Mitzi died of malnutrition in a West Memphis hospital. Mitzi's twin, Marcia, was also treated for malnutrition, but she recovered.

The LaForges, who moved to West Memphis from Caruthersville, Mo., last November, have two other small children, now being cared for by welfare agencies.

LaForge told police at the time of his arrest that he had been without work for some time, until he found a job in Memphis just four days before his arrest.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea offered today to deal leniently with two U.S. helicopter pilots held captive for the past nine months if the U.N. Command admits they were spying and that it won't happen again.

A U.N. Command spokesman said the Communist offer was under study.

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) — The kidnapped heir to an Asian movie fortune said today he was kept blindfolded in a wooden shack and "never saw the light of day" during 12 days of captivity.

Vee Ming Shaw, 31, son of movie magnate Run Run Shaw, told newsmen the kidnapers put blindfolds on him and his chauffeur when they abducted them Feb. 5. He said the blindfolds stayed on until he and the chauffeur were pushed out of a car Sunday night on the outskirts of Singapore.

The family has denied paying ransom, and police are still searching for the kidnapers.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government renewed martial law throughout Syria Monday night after putting down a riot in the oil port of Banias. The government called the riot an attempted insurrection.

School Probe at Conway Underway

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Education Association has asked the National Education Association to investigate the public school situation in Conway.

The AEA said the Conway School Board had "arbitrarily and in violation of established board policies refused to consider the renewal of the contract of principals' contracts" and had "arbitrarily voted to terminate Supt. Hays Gibson's contract without permitting Gibson or his attorney to speak."

The AEA Executive Committee also voted to advise all its members of the "legal and ethical implications" of the situation and ask them not to apply for the jobs the board considers open because of the recent action.

Forrest Rozzell, AEA executive secretary, announced today that the board had taken this action at a meeting last week.

The committee report said actions by some individual members of the school board and by the board have "created a climate of uncertainty and frustration in the community and a climate of fear, uncertainty and frustration among the professional staff."

The report said the board has violated policies generally recognized as essential to sound school board-administrative-teacher relationships. And it said the board "has shown little respect for the personal and professional rights of a number of our members."

The AEA asked the National Education Association's Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission to make a "full-scale investigation of the school situation in Conway."

The AEA sent letters to its members telling them that, in the opinion of the AEA, no vacancy exists in the superintendent or principalships in the Conway School District.

The letters said the AEA code of ethics provides that no member should apply for a job held by another member of the profession.

Spicer Plans No Recognition

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — State Republican chairman William Spicer said Monday that as far as he is concerned a GOP state Executive Committee meeting called by friends of Winthrop Rockefeller is valid.

Eleven of the 20 members of the state committee signed a petition for a committee meeting on March 7. Spicer, involved in a rift with Rockefeller, national Republican committeeman for Arkansas, has issued a call for a separate committee meeting March 21.

"As far as I'm concerned the meeting on the 21st is the only bona fide meeting of the Republican Party and that is the only one I plan to attend," Spicer said.

Supposedly a meeting can be legally called by a majority of the committee or by Spicer, as chairman.

Monday. He was 78.

Thinks Poll Tax Is Not Dead Yet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 35-year-old state law may keep the poll tax alive in Arkansas and avoid replacement of revenue lost by use of the levy in registering voters.

The law requires possession of a poll tax receipt as a requisite for purchase of any privilege—such as drivers, hunting or fishing—license.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus told of the law — Arkansas Statute 5-127-8 — after county school supervisors asked him to do something to replace the revenue they now receive from poll tax sales.

Faubus has said that he will not ask the upcoming special legislative session to substitute a per capita tax for the poll tax, or to enact any other kind of complicated law.

"But if we can retain this revenue simply by enforcing a law already on the books, we may do that," Faubus said.

The supervisors' office costs are now paid with the poll tax, which last year brought in $633,000.

If the old law is enforced as much as $1 million could be paid to the state yearly, since nearly all adults have to buy some kind of license.

The law, enacted in 1929, also requires all government employees to pay the poll tax before they can draw salary checks, and this provision has been enforced through the years. Faubus said he didn't know if the poll tax-for-license requirement was ever enforced.

Faubus said he will have his legal advisors study the situation.

"There are many laws in which the poll tax is involved," he said. "We'll have to study the entire picture."

One of the more recent laws requires welfare clients to pay the tax before they can collect their checks.

The governor will issue a call later this week for a special session of the legislature starting Feb. 26 to enact a voter registration law.

Man Indicted on Fraud Counts

MEMPHIS (AP) — Robert Douglas Craft, 38, of Proctor, Ark., operator of Craft Realty and Loan Co. in Memphis, was indicted with three of his employees Monday on mail fraud charges in connection with New Mexico land dealings.

The 15-count indictment charged the four with using the mails to obtain money by false pretenses when selling lots near Taos, N.M.

Craft operated as president of Rio Grande Estates and Ranches of the Rio Grande, Inc., the charge said.

The group toured state fairs and inducted people to register for free lots, then later mailed cards saying they had won a free $495 lot. They paid closing costs from $49 to $64.

They then said there were access roads to the lots, utilities available and water at a low depth to persuade winners to buy additional lots at $495 each, the government said.

The indictment said the representations were false.

Craft faces federal charges in Pensacola, Fla., on charges of making false and fraudulent statements in literature mailed from his Lakeside Estates at Delunak Springs, Fla., during 1961-63.

Rail Men, Labor Talk Over Strike

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor and management confer today at the urging of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to see if they can end the violent Florida East Coast Railway strike.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds, the Labor Department's top troubleshooter, was to meet with Ed Ball, board chairman of the railroad, and G.E. Leighty, chief negotiator for the 11 nonoperating unions on strike.

Wirtz sent Ball and Leighty identical telegrams.

"The dispute between the Florida East Coast Railway and the nonoperating brotherhoods is now in its 14th month. The loss suffered by the private interests involved are incalculable. The loss suffered by the public interest is intolerable."

"The recent bombings of this property are outrageous criminal acts."

"The interruption this past week of vital defense operations of Cape Kennedy, resulting from picketing, is a further insufferable price to the public," the telegrams read in part.

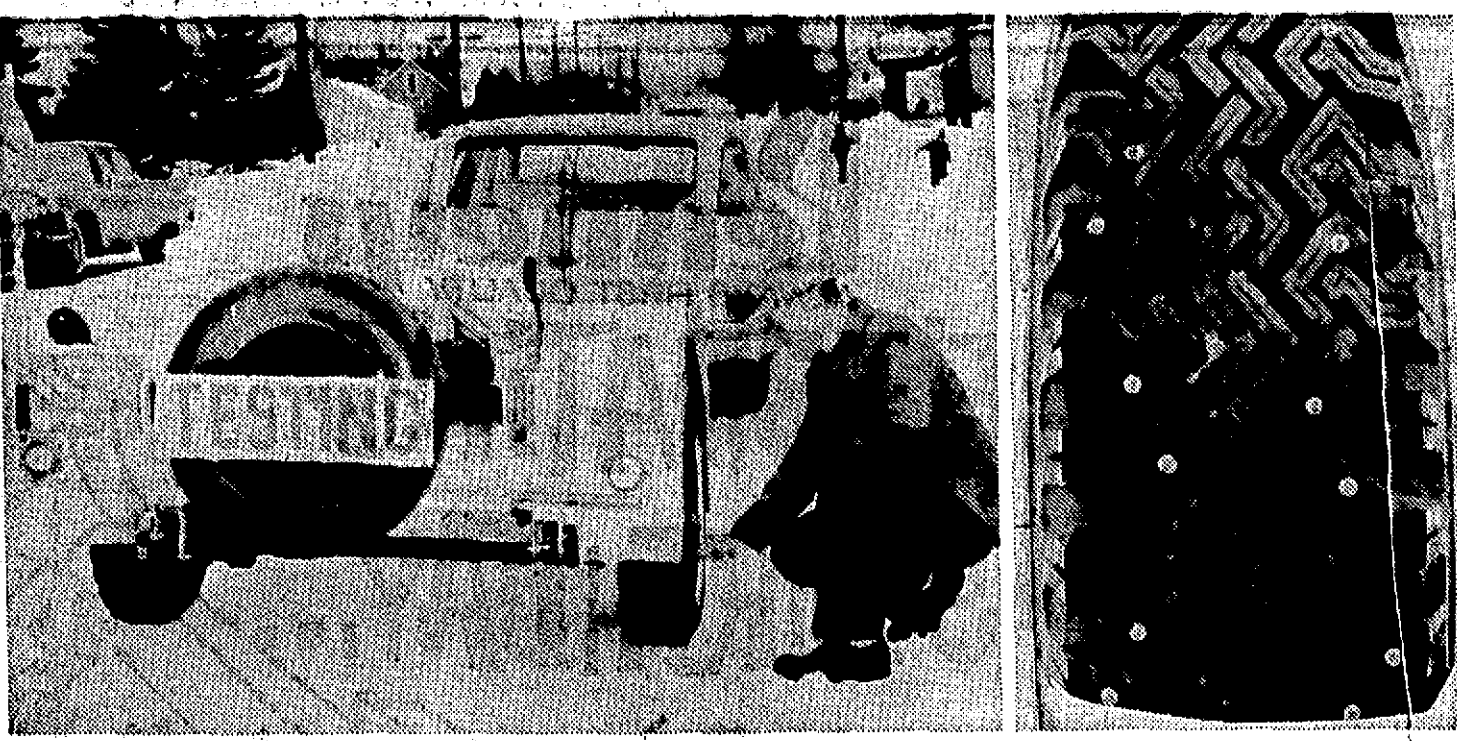

Picketing of Cape Kennedy began after the railroad started operations of a spur there. Work on millions of dollars in space projects was halted when construction workers honored the picket lines. Work was resumed after the National Labor Relations Board worked out a truce.

There have been more than 200 violent incidents during the strike. The most recent were dynamite bombings of freight trains in North Miami Beach and New Smyrna Beach.

The 1,300 members of the non-operating unions employed by the railroad struck Jan. 23, 1963, after the railroad said it could not grant their request for 10.28 cent an hour raise.

The unions said they can't afford to settle for less than the national pattern of 10.22 cents added to hourly pay of $2.42. This was accepted by 190 Class I railroads in 1962 on the basis of a National Emergency Board recommendation.

The railroad has been operat-

GETTING A GRIP ON THE PROBLEM—Newest potential weapon in man's continuing battle to move traffic safely and effectively over icy roads is the spiked tire—a relative of the spiked golf shoe. Into a tire—normal or snow—are implanted 80 or more tiny studs of tungsten carbide. On dry pavement, engineers say, these spikes are pushed back into the tire to a degree that they hardly touch the pavement. Tests are being made of the tires by the National Safety Council in Gaylord, Mich., during research into ways of preventing skids.

Make Sure Tax Cut Will Be Immediate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate House conferees on the tax cut bill have made sure the nation's wage and salary earners will get the benefit of the reductions at the earliest possible moment.

They agreed Monday to accept a Senate provision which will make the new lower withholding rates in the bill effective with pay checks delivered eight days after the measure is signed into law.

This was a victory for the administration, which has been pressing to have the effects of the tax cut felt in the economy as soon as possible.

Some companies have notified Congress it will be difficult to make the change in their pay rolls within a week.

The conferees resume their closed sessions early today in an effort to complete action on the 400-page bill this afternoon.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., head of the House group and the conference chairman, told newsmen it was decided at Monday's session to announce only the decision on the effective date for the cut in withholding.

The conference Monday succeeded in getting through about half of the 208 changes made by the Senate in the House bill. Many major differences were put aside for later decision.

It was understood they agreed tentatively to continue to allow deductions for state gasoline taxes. The House had voted to eliminate these as a deduction, but the Senate version reversed this.

In its final form, the bill is expected to provide individual and corporate tax cuts totaling about $11.5 billion a year. Cuts for most individuals will average about 19 per cent.

The months of talk on civil rights which Mansfield predicted would push the farm measure back too far for much effect this year.

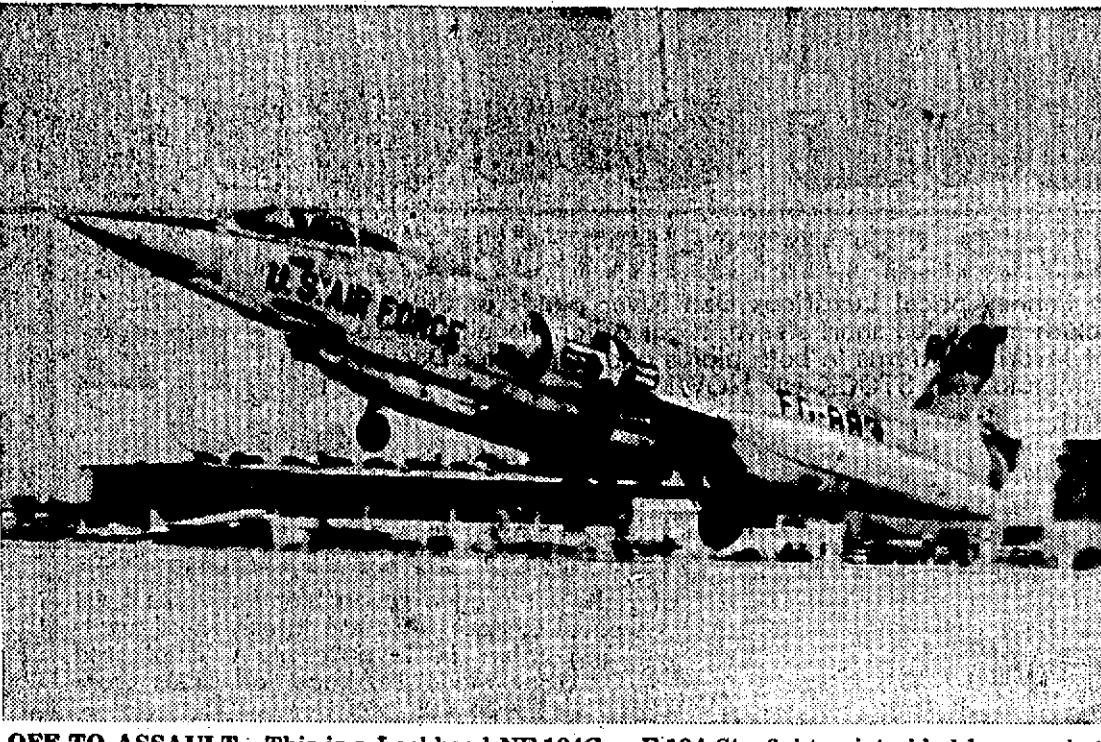

Red Still Work In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt said Monday that Cuban agents, although stifled by tough Venezuelan action, have not given up their attempt to make this oil-rich South American nation a Soviet beachhead.

"All efforts to establish a Soviet beachhead here have failed but they have not stopped," he said. "Many Cuban agents are now jailed but others are still in the streets."

Sees Long Debate Over Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he expects months of debate in the Senate on the civil rights bill.

Talking with newsmen after the weekly White House breakfast meeting of Democratic congressional leaders, the Montana senator said:

"I rather anticipate that when we take up the civil rights bill we will be on it not for weeks but for months."

But he gave no time for taking up the measure.

The party chiefs from the Capitol had been expected to seek a decision from President Johnson on whether to deal first with wheat-cotton legislation — which the administration also wants—or move quickly into the Southern filibuster the civil rights measure is certain to set off.

Welfare Dept Would Take Children

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An attorney for the state Welfare Department argued in a brief filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court today that Archie Cude, of near Mena, does not have the right to deny his children an education because of his religious beliefs.

Cude and his wife are appealing to the Supreme Court from proceedings in the probate and chancery courts of Polk County in which Cude lost custody of three of his children because he would not have them vaccinated so they could attend school.

The children, Wayne, Della and Linda May, still are living with their parents pending a decision in the case by the Supreme Court.

Ivan H. Smith, the Welfare Department attorney, said in his brief that the courts have uniformly held that, while a person has a right to his own religious beliefs, he does not have the right to damage others, including his own children, as a result of those beliefs.

School officials in Polk County refused to admit the Cude children because they were not vaccinated. Cude was fined several times in Mena Municipal Court for failing to send the children to school and custody

Pakistan to Trade With Reds

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan is negotiating a comprehensive trade agreement with the Soviet Union, Commerce Minister Wahid-uz-Zaman told Radio Pakistan in an interview Monday. Pakistan has signed trade agreements with Red China and Yugoslavia.

Arkansan Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—L.C.B. Young of Osceola was elected vice chairman of the Graduate Institute of Technology Advisory Council Monday. He succeeds the late Samuel L. Nevins. Winthrop Rockefeller was re-elected chairman. Dr. William B. Stiles, director of GIT, reported 102 enrollees at the center, compared with 77 last year at mid-term.

proceedings finally were filed against him.

Cude has said that if the children are taken from him and vaccinated, he will not accept them back.

Cude's appeal is based principally on the manner in which the lower courts handled the case. Judge Wesley Howard first appointed a guardian for the children in the probate court and then, sitting as chancery judge, he gave custody of the children to the Welfare Department.

Cude's attorneys already have filed their briefs in the case and the Supreme Court now is ready to take the matter under submission.
